Course Notes:

All races will begin at the polo field with spectators able to see the opening 400m of each race. The runners will then enter into the scenic trails for approximately the next 1.5 miles, with several areas available for coaches and spectators to travel to if wanting to watch. The athletes will then enter into the baseball fields, a brief trail section and a final loop of the polo fields making the last mile of the race visible from several areas on the course. All parts of the race will take place on well-cut grass, trails and woodchips, with one challenging hill just prior to entering the baseball fields.
